

Questions to ask your doctor about TOUJEO®

How do I know if TOUJEO® is right for me?

If your doctor has determined that you should be on a long-acting insulin to help lower high blood sugar, TOUJEO® may be an option for you. Your doctor will help you make this decision based on your needs.

Will I need to change my dosing if I'm on TOUJEO®?

TOUJEO® should be injected once a day. Your doctor can provide more details on how your dosing might change.

How does TOUJEO® work?

TOUJEO® comes in 2 pre-filled pens: the SoloSTAR® pen and the larger capacity DoubleSTAR® pen. If you're already on LANTUS®, you'll be familiar with the injection process. Your doctor can provide full instructions on how to use TOUJEO®.

TOUJEO® and LANTUS® are not interchangeable. The switch from one insulin to another requires medical prescription, supervision and monitoring.

TOUJEO® and LANTUS® are long-acting insulins used to control high blood sugar.
